OpenLearn | Free learning from The Open University

The Open University

Statement of participation

ANIRUDH Ganji

has completed the free course including any mandatory tests for:

Introducing computing and IT

This free 8-hour course provided a general overview on how digital technologies have come to dominate virtually every aspect of the modern world.

Issue date: 17 February 2026

www.open.edu/openlearn

This statement does not imply the award of credit points nor the conferment of a University Qualification.
This statement confirms that this free course and all mandatory tests were passed by the learner.

Please go to the course on OpenLearn for full details:
https://www.open.edu/openlearn/digital-computing/introducing-computing-and-it/content-section-0

COURSE CODE: TM112_1

OpenLearn | Free learning from The Open University

The Open University

Introducing computing and IT

https://www.open.edu/openlearn/digital-computing/introducing-computing-and-it/content-section-0

Course summary

Explore how computing and IT shape our digital world with this free introductory course. Learn how computers work, how data is stored and deleted, and why online safety and data security matter while gaining a deeper understanding of how technology influences the way we live and think.

Learning outcomes

By completing this course, the learner should be able to:

- understand the idea of a 'digital world'
- explain the role of computing and information technology (IT) in a digital world
- understand the importance of keeping safe online
- understand how the use of online search engines can influence your beliefs and actions
- describe how data are stored on and deleted from a hard disk drive (HDD)
- describe how data are stored on and deleted from a solid state drive (SSD).

Completed study

The learner has completed the following:

Section 1

Computers: from rarity to ubiquity

Section 2

Some aspects of our information society

Section 3

Participating in a digital world

Section 4

Are search engines bad for your health?

Section 5

Hard disk drives: a conversation

Section 6

Solid-state drives: The conversation continued